

New Arthritis Bra

Another hurrray for Velcro!

Finally, a bra that understands the needs of women with arthritis, MS, torn rotator cuffs, fibromyalgia, paralysis and injury, or simply those for whom reaching behind to do up a bra is anything but an uplifting experience. Called the Eezee Bra, these customized bras have a front loop Velcro closure and large "trouser-style" hooks. Hidden loops are provided to help those with restricted movements. Two fingers and the palm of your hand are all you need to close or undo this bra. The five comfortable new styles, invented by Canadian Francine Lonn, have received great reviews from the American Arthritis Foundation.

Made of nylon and spandex or 100-per-cent cotton, they come in white with a price tag of $39.95. For more details or to find the closest retailer, visit www.harlon.com or call 1-888-756-2727.
